The Future of Financial Regulation

Joel Seligman

President, University of Rochester and former Dean, Washington University School of Law

Joel Seligman is the 10th president of the University of Rochester and former dean of Washington University School of Law. He is the co-author, with the late Louis Loss and with Troy Paredes, of the 11-volume Securities Regulation, the leading treatise in the field, and author of The Transformation of Wall Street: A History of the Securities and Exchange Commission and Modern Corporate Finance. He has authored or co-authored 20 books, including the leading casebook, Securities Regulation: Cases and Materials (through the 10th edition), and more than 40 articles on legal issues related to securities and corporations.

Seligman has served as a reporter for the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, Revision of Uniform Securities Act; chair of the Securities and Exchange Commission Advisory Committee on Market Information; and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Professional Ethics Executive Committee. He also was a member of the board of the National Association of Securities Dealers.

He is currently a member of the board of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and of the Eastman Kodak Company, as well as the Upstate New York Regional Advisory Board of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. In the Greater Rochester community, he serves on the boards of the George Eastman House, Greater Rochester Enterprise (GRE), and Rochester Business Alliance.

He served as dean of Washington University School of Law from 1999-2005 and of the University of Arizona College of Law from 1995-1999. He also was on the law faculties at the University of Michigan, George Washington University, and Northeastern University. He earned his bachelor’s degree from the University of California, Los Angeles and his J.D. from Harvard University.

Tyrrell Williams was a beloved faculty member of Washington University School of Law. His family and friends established the Tyrrell Williams Lectureship in his honor in 1948. Professor Williams received his AB from Princeton University in 1898 and his LLB from Washington University in 1900. He enjoyed an active and varied legal practice in St. Louis before joining the law school faculty in 1913. He served as dean from 1919-1921, and also was named acting dean for one year in 1926 and again in 1935. He remained a member of the faculty until 1946.
