Legal Globalization and Efficiency: Towards Standardization or Jurisdiversity?

Prof. Bertrand du Marais
Professor of Public Law
Université de Paris Ouest Nanterre La Défense

Thursday, August 28, 2014
12 p.m., Cullenbine Classroom (AB305)

Bertrand du Marais is a member of the Conseil d’État in Paris and Professor of Law at Université de Paris Ouest Nanterre La Défense. He previously worked as a legal adviser at the World Bank. He also held various positions at the State Secretariat for Public Policy Planning and Evaluation, the State Secretariat for the Budget, and the Ministry of Justice Economic Attractiveness of Law Research Project in Paris.

Prof. Du Marais has been a member of the Conseil d’État since 1989, serving in various capacities including:

◆ Deputy Rapporteur-General for the Reports and Studies Department
◆ Rapporteur for the Litigation, Administrative, Reports and Studies, and Finance Departments
◆ Master of Requests
◆ Government Commissioner