Summer Camps and Activities for Children

A great resource for parents looking for summer camps and activities for their children is the local St. Louis PARENT magazine. This small newspaper can be found in the entrances of most Schnucks supermarkets or you can subscribe ($18/year subscription, mail check to: St. Louis Parent, P.O. Box 190287, St. Louis, MO 63119). Each May St. Louis PARENT publishes a listing of summer camps and activities for children of all ages. Out-of-state camps are also listed there. Another resource for camping information is the annual Summer Opportunities Fair that presents more than 100 exhibitors. The event is sponsored by John Burroughs, Whitfield and Mary Institute/Country Day Schools. The list below is largely culled from their listing of St. Louis area activities, but is not all inclusive.
