Hours: Mon. – Fri. 10a.m. – 9p.m.
Sat. 10 a.m. – 6p.m.
Sun. 12a.m. – 5p.m.

About 50 stores. The most exclusive and expensive major shopping center in St. Louis. Includes Neiman-Marcus, Saks Fifth Ave., Sur La Table, Williams-Sonoma, Talbot's, Ann Taylor, and J. Crew. 6-screen independent films movie theatre inside. Great food at Cardwell's, Canyon Café, and the Dining Room in Nieman.

Popular University City bar whose strict carding keeps those pesky underage undergrads out. Spacious, with several rooms. Retro atmosphere replete with glass-encased collections of paraphernalia from Howdy Doody to the Jetsons to Beverly Hills, 90210. The music is fun, the drinks are not too expensive, and they have many different live music acts in both the Duck Room and the Elvis Room (usually with a cover). Chuck Berry plays here about once a month (contrary to popular rumor, he is not an owner). Also, you can shape up your darts and video gaming abilities.

Sun 11a.m. – 7p.m.

About 90 restaurants and specialty stores. 10-screen movie theatre just outside. Union Station is a massive, Romanesque –style building designed in 1894, and was once the largest and busiest railroad terminal in the world. The Grand Hall features a barrel-vaulted ceiling of amazing gilt work, stained glass over the entrance, and scale models of trains and statues. Designated a National Historic Landmark in 1976. After a $150 million restoration, the facility reopened in 1985 with the 539 room Hyatt Regency Hotel, shops, restaurants, a lake, four active train tracks, and a plaza for festivals, concerts, and other special events. Includes Hard Rock Café, Have a Nice Day Café (club), City Improv (improvised comedy), and Hooters.
