
2. Our first class will meet on Tuesday, August 22. For classes on August 22 and August 24, read the following:
   c. Christoph Schreuer, The Changing Structure of International Organization (available in Room 301, on Reserve, and on the website).

3. Class preparation and attendance are required. You will be required to withdraw from the course if you have more than four absences, whether excused or unexcused. Unpreparedness counts as an absence. If you are unprepared, leave a note on the podium before class starts. Whenever possible there will be a five minute break at some point during the ninety minute class session. Failure to return to the class after the five minute break will count as absence. Please note that failure to attend a class because of a religious holiday does not amount to an absence.

4. The final will be a take-home examination.

5. We will cover the following in class:
   II. August 29 & 31: Membership and Legal Status. Read pp. 4-72. We will discuss problems on pp. 41-42.
   III. September 5 & 7: Succession Problems. Read pp. 75-145. We will discuss problems on pp. 75-77.
IV.  September 12 & 14: Privileges and Immunities: Inviolability. Read pp. 149-197. We’ll discuss problems on pp. 149-150.

VI. September 26 & 28: Negotiations, Mediation, and Arbitration. Read pp. 221-249. We’ll discuss problems on pp. 249-250.

VII. October 3 & 5: The Role of Law in Negotiations. Read pp. 249-303. We’ll discuss problems on pp. 249-250.

IX. October 17 only; no class on October 19—Fall Break: The Security Council: Reform. Read pp. 387-401. We’ll discuss problems on p. 387.

X. October 24 & 26: UN Sanctions: The Sanctions Debate. Read pp. 403-431. We’ll discuss problems on pp. 403-404.

XI. October 31 & November 2: The UN Sanctions Committee. Read pp. 433-473. We’ll discuss problems on pp. 433.

XIII. November 14 & 16: Peacekeeping: Reform. Read pp. 525-584. We’ll discuss problems on p. 525.

XIV. November 21 only; no class on November 23—Thanksgiving: Humanitarian Intervention: Case Study of Kosovo. Read pp. 587-646. We’ll discuss problems on p. 587.

XV. November 28 & 30: Financial Issues. We’ll discuss problems on p. 849.

6. I want to draw your attention to a publication titled Legal Systems of the World (2002). This work is a result of a collaborative effort by over four hundred scholars worldwide. It contains the legal systems of every country in the world, subdivisions, supranational bodies, federal systems and international organizations. It is a very useful reference publication.