Welcome to the seminar on Adoption and Assisted Reproduction.

The attached syllabus introduces you to the course. For our first meeting, on Monday, August 21, please review the syllabus and also prepare for class discussion the assigned material listed on the syllabus for that date. You can obtain photocopies of this material (as well as hard copies of the syllabus) in room 301. During the first class, I'll provide additional introductory remarks about the course, including how to obtain materials for the rest of the semester, and then we’ll discuss the assigned material.

I look forward to seeing you on Monday.
