Commemoration of the 70th Anniversary of the Nuremberg Trials

On November 20, 2015, Harris Institute Director Leila Sadat delivered the opening address for “The Nuremberg Principles 70 Years Later: Contemporary Challenges” conference in Courtroom 600 in Nuremberg, Germany. Organized by the International Nuremberg Principles Academy, the event commemorated the 70th anniversary of the Nuremberg Trial which taught us to re-conceptualize the notion of war and its worst consequences. For reflections and for a copy of the keynote address, visit Lex lata, lex ferenda.

UN General Assembly Sixth Committee Discusses a Global Convention on Crimes Against Humanity

In November 2015, the UN General Assembly’s Legal Committee (also known as the Sixth Committee) discussed the need for a global convention on the prevention and punishment of crimes against humanity.

Thirty-seven countries specifically addressed the proposed draft articles presented in the Report by International Law Commission Special Rapporteur on Crimes Against Humanity, Professor Sean Murphy, largely in support of international collaboration. Read more on our blog Lex lata, lex ferenda.
Following the UN Climate Change Negotiations and Landmark Paris Agreement

In the months leading up to the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change’s 21st Conference of the Parties (COP 21) in Paris, the Harris Institute hosted a panel discussion with Scott Stone, Counsel at Hunton & Williams LLP, Eric Dannenmaier, Indiana University School of Law, and Catherine Werner, Sustainability Director for St. Louis City, to grapple with the prospects and challenges of a global climate agreement. Harris Institute Fellow Tamara Slater also attended negotiations in Bonn, Germany and wrote about the Conflict, Secrecy, and Some Progress at Penultimate UN Climate Change Negotiations.

Speakers for Spring 2016

What’s Fair: Street Art, Appropriation Art, and the Law
February 4, 2016 | Kevin Ray, Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Building Hope and Moving Forward in Uganda
February 19, 2016 | Frank Mugisha, Sexual Minorities Uganda

Chinese Constitutionalism at the Crossroads: Challenges, Opportunities and Prospects
February 22, 2016 | Wen-Chen Chang, National Taiwan University College of Law

Dean’s Distinguished Scholar in Residence
February 25, 2016 | Chantal Thomas, Cornell Law School

See Something, Say Something: Post 9/11 National Security Profiling and Policies
February 29, 2016 | Hina Shamsi, ACLU National Security Project

Fireside Chat with Former U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom
March 8, 2016 | Louis B. Susman

American Red Cross International Humanitarian Law Workshop for Professionals
April 8, 2016 | CLE credit available.

Visit our website for additional information and programs.

Washington University School of Law
Whitney R. Harris World Law Institute
Anheuser-Busch Hall | One Brookings Drive | St. Louis, Missouri 63130

Website | Facebook | Twitter | Blog

To opt out of future mailings click here: Unsubscribe.